肉菜店 三才板

A decorative page from a manuscript, likely a book cover or endpaper. The central feature is a large, stylized floral or sunburst motif, possibly a stylized rose or a sun, with multiple pointed petals radiating from a central circular element. This central motif is enclosed within a large, white, diamond-shaped frame. The background of the page is dark, and the diamond frame is outlined in white. The overall design is symmetrical and highly decorative, characteristic of traditional Islamic or Persian manuscript illumination.
