Large Calligraphy:

- Top Left: 山吹たて (Yamabuki Tate)
- Top Right: お茶屋 (Ochaya)

Small Labels:

- Top Left: あま (Ama) - Little girl
- Top Center: おおし (Ooshi) - Uncle
- Top Right: 年人 (Toshito) - Old person
- Middle Right: 若者 (Wakamo) - Young person
