A black and white woodblock print illustration of a Japanese festival float (danjiri). The float is decorated with large, stylized flowers (cherry blossoms and peonies) and circular patterns (suzuribachi). A banner on the left reads "天保十五年 辰八月廿日" (Tenpo 15th year,辰 August 20th). The float is carrying a large, ornate structure with the characters "大" (Great) and "人" (Person) visible, likely representing a deity or a specific festival figure.
