

Below the illustration, there is a large block of text in Japanese, organized into several columns. The text appears to be a list or a detailed account of the events depicted in the illustration above. The characters are written in a traditional Japanese script, likely kuzushiji. The text is arranged in a structured manner, with some larger characters used as section headers or markers. The overall layout suggests a formal document or a detailed record of the scene.