Handwritten text in the upper section of the manuscript, organized into columns. The text is dense and appears to be a list or a detailed record, possibly related to the 'Myōron' (名聞) mentioned in the title. The characters are written in a cursive style typical of Edo-period documents.

Handwritten text in the lower section of the manuscript, continuing the columns from the upper section. The text is also dense and cursive, maintaining the same style as the upper section.
