

Contents

Introduction	7
Oral Studies
1	New Trends and Directions in Central Asian Studies: According to the Project ‘Living History’ of the Central Asian People 13
2	Regarding Certain Characteristics of the Kyrgyz Family and Social Structure 21
3	Clan and Kinship Networks in the Kyrgyz Society According to the Oral Sources 33
4	Formation Process of Eurasian Nomadic Groups, Based on Oral History: The Kyrgyz Nomads’ Example 49
5	Baïbiche and Tokol in the Kyrgyz Community 59
Comparative Studies
6	Nomads and Globalization: The Example of Central Asian Nomads 77
7	Some Findings and Views Regarding the Formation of Nomadic Groups in Central Eurasia 85
8	Regarding Socio-Cultural Structures in Ottoman-Kyrgyz Nomadic Life 93
9	Some New Findings and Views About ‘Divan’ 105
10	‘Turluk’: The Story of a Nomadic Tent, From Central Asia to Anatolia 113
11	Terms for Trade and Craft Sectors: The Example of Kyrgyz and Anatolian Turkish 125
Case Studies
12	Transformation of Baатыr in the Formation of Nation-State in Kyrgyzstan 145
13	The Concept of ‘Yörük’ and the Yörüks of Bursa Region 159
14	Urban-Rural Relations in the Transition Period: The Case of an Animal Bazaar in Kyrgyzstan 171
15	Kinship Relations in Kyrgyzstan Following the Transition Period: The Case of Küntuu Village 185
16	Susamyр: The Place Where Eurasian Nomads Meet and Melt 197

17	Social and Economic Changes in the Transition: The Case of Suisamy Valley in Kyrgyzstan	217
18	A Circumcision Feast in Kyrgyzstan	227
	Bibliography	239
	Index	253